

Number of Temperate Months Per Year in the Contiguous US

Based on 30-year climate normals from 1991 to 2020

A temperate day is any day where the maximum temperature was between 60 and 80 degrees Fahrenheit. Number of months is calculated by dividing the number of days by 30.5 and rounding up.

